A NEW LUJ CAMPUS!

LUJ has a new home in Ryogoku in the heart of Tokyo's historic Shitamachi, or Low City. Ryogoku is located in Sumida-ku, one of the 23 wards of central Tokyo, and is one of Tokyo's cultural and entertainment centers, with such attractions as Edo-Tokyo Museum, the Sumida Hokusai Museum, the Kanto Earthquake Memorial Museum, The Yasuda Garden, Skytree (a ways off, but looming large), the Sumida River fireworks festival, and of course Kokugikan, the headquarters and main arena of the Sumo organization. The area abounds with excellent eating and drinking establishments, and is an embarkation point for Sumida River cruises. LUJ's new campus promises to be a great place to study and collaborate, and have fun, as we begin our second 25 years in Japan.

NEW LUJ LIBRARY

LUJ Library now has a larger 5th floor space in our new Ryogoku campus. The new library will still have a collection of print books, as well as a selection of magazines, and newspapers, but most of our information resources will be online digital material with millions of eBooks, articles, videos, data, and other materials available on any digital platform. The library space itself will feature quiet and comfortable study and discussion spaces, and a library staff ready to help you with all your research and information needs. See how easy it is to access the library websites on LUJ's new homepage, and make our quiet and comfortable library the place to really get into your studies.
